INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

April 12, 2017

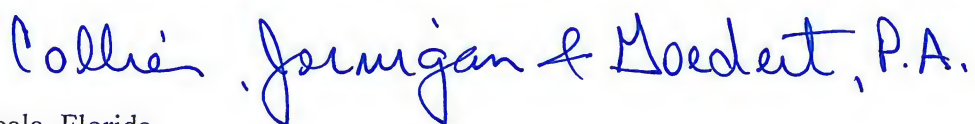

To the Board of Directors of
Choose Life, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying schedule of expenditures of state financial assistance of the Choose Life Specialty License Plate program of Choose Life, Inc. (a nonprofit organization) for the year ended June 30, 2016. This financial statement is the responsibility of the Organization's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statement based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards (Uniform Guidance), Audits of States Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and the Uniform Guidance require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts in the financial report. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and the significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial report presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the schedule of expenditures of state financial assistance referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the expenditures of state financial assistance under the Choose Life Specialty License Plate program of Choose Life, Inc. for the year ended June 30, 2016 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated April 12, 2017, on our consideration of Choose Life, Inc.'s internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and should be considered in assessing the results of our audit.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING AND ON COMPLIANCE AND OTHER MATTERS BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

April 12, 2017

To the Board of Directors of
Choose Life, Inc.

We have audited, in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the accompanying schedule of expenditures of state financial assistance of Choose Life, Inc. (a nonprofit organization) for the year ended June 30, 2016, and have issued our report thereon dated April 12, 2017.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the schedule of expenditures of state financial assistance, we considered Choose Life, Inc.'s internal control over financial reporting (internal control) to determine the audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the schedule of expenditures of state financial assistance, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Choose Life, Inc.'s internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the organization's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency or a combination of deficiencies in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or, significant deficiencies. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we considered to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether Choose Life, Inc.'s schedule of expenditures of state financial assistance is free of material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of the schedule of expenditures of state financial assistance amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the organization's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the organization's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on compliance for Choose Life Specialty License Plate program based on our audit of the types of compliance requirements referred to above. We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; the audit requirements of Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations, Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards (Uniform Guidance); and Chapter (cite 10.550 or 10.650, as applicable), Rules of the Auditor General. Those standards, the Uniform Guidance, and Chapter (cite 10.550 or 10.650, as applicable), Rules of the Auditor General, require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major Federal program or State project occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about Choose Life, Inc's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In planning and performing our audit of compliance, we considered Choose Life, Inc.'s internal control over compliance with the types of requirements that could have a direct and material effect on the Choose Life Specialty License Plate program to determine the auditing procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing an opinion on compliance with the Choose Life Specialty License Plate program and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with the Uniform Guidance and Chapter (cite 10.550 or 10.650, as applicable), Rules of the Auditor General for the State of Florida, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of Choose Life, Inc.'s internal control over compliance.

A deficiency in internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control over compliance does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a state program on a timely basis. A material weakness in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance, such that there is a reasonable possibility that material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a state program will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance with a type of compliance requirement of a state program that is less severe than a material weakness in internal control over compliance, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over compliance that might be material weaknesses or, significant deficiencies. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weakness may exist that have not been identified.

The purpose of this report on internal control over compliance is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over compliance and the results of that testing based on the requirements of the Uniform Guidance, and Chapter 10.650, Rules of the Auditor General. Accordingly, this report is not suitable for any other purpose.
